Welcome to the age of data

Elevate your career with mission-critical skills essential across business, research, and academia with this data science book bundle by No Starch Press. Dive Into Data Science will teach you how to harness the approachable Python programming language to solve common business challenges. If you're a researcher, Python Tools for Scientists will equip you with a powerful arsenal for creating data visualizations, running simulations, and more. And regardless of your discipline, The Book of Dash will empower you to create dashboards that elegantly and effectively present your data. Pay what you want for these and 15 more books, and support the Electronic Frontier Foundation with your purchase!
